WEBINAR PROGRAMME

Deadline date for bookings & payments for the Webinar on
26 May 2021:
3 May 2021

We talk a lot about sustainability - this is evident from planning reports, where the word is used on every other page. We do talk the talk, but do we walk the walk?

Despite all the noise many built environment professionals only have a vague notion of what sustainability is; in many cases it remain business as usual, in spite of all the 'sustainable' plans.

The webinar will provoke you to change your mind-set for the way we plan and design the built environment. The primary aim of the seminar is to equip you with knowledge and understanding of sustainable spatial planning & design practice.

Key Learning Outcomes

This interactive webinar will enable delegates to:

1. Discern between sustainable and unsustainable development.
2. Grasp the salient principles of sustainable planning.
3. Enhance your understanding on how
 - ✓ energy issues should be addressed to foster long-term sustainability;
 - ✓ water and sanitation issues should be addressed to foster sustainability;
 - ✓ waste issues should be addressed to foster sustainability;
 - ✓ land use & transport issues should be addressed to foster sustainability;
 - ✓ socio-economic issues should be addressed to foster sustainability;
 - ✓ political will is a critical success factor in crafting the path to long-term sustainability; and
 - ✓ statutes and bylaws have to be formulated to foster sustainability.
4. Understand how a municipal Integrated Development Plan, Spatial Development Framework and Land Use Management Scheme can enable sustainability.

The nuts and bolts of the following will be further unpacked in the day's proceedings:

- ✓ what sustainability really means;
- ✓ when is a settlement / community sustainable and when is it not;
- ✓ the workings of a sustainable household, business, neighbourhood and town;
- ✓ what sustainable services / infrastructure entail;
- ✓ management required to operate and maintain a sustainable community;
- ✓ relevant case studies of sustainable communities; and
- ✓ what our individual roles are, on the way to sustainability.

PROFILE OF THE ORGANISERS

Mr Louw van Biljon (Senior Facilitator of the Webinar)

Louw is a professionally registered, practicing Town Planner in South Africa. He holds a bachelor's degree in Town & Regional Planning, a masters in Urban Design, a diploma in Interior Design and certificates in Environmental Law and Environmental Management Systems. He is a Net Zero Accredited Professional+ (GBCSA), completed a course on sustainability with the International Institute of Sustainability Professionals (Portland, USA) and is an EcoDistricts Accredited Professional. He is the owner of Spatium Environmental Design CC. Louw has worked in local government, academia and private practice since 1980. He was a senior lecturer in the Department of Town & Regional Planning at the University of Pretoria for twelve years. He was also a visiting lecturer at the departments of Geography (Qwa-Qwa campus) and Town & Regional Planning (Bloemfontein campus) of the University of the Free State.

As consultant, Louw has done work for the CSIR, University of Pretoria, Municipal Infrastructure Support Agent, International Institute for Energy Conservation, Gauteng Dept. of Human Settlements, Free State dept. of Rural Development and Land Reform, the City of Johannesburg (the last three as member of consortiums) and various private land owners and developers in the Free State, Gauteng and the Northern Cape.

Louw has a special interest in urban design and eco-building; this underpins his ecological approach to spatial planning, where zero waste and integrated renewable infrastructure systems coalesce in sustainable communities. He undertook a study tour of Findhorn Ecovillage in Scotland and studied the German Renewable Energy Feed-in-Tariff programme.

In the skills development field, Louw is currently mentoring two young candidate planners toward professional registration with SACPLAN. Louw also qualified as a national cultural tourist guide and operated as a registered guide for international tourists between 1999 and 2015. He also found the time to be the managing partner of a restaurant in Clarens for five years.
